...in the heart of Baltimore

Mount Vernon Place United Methodist Church has played an integral role in history. Completed in 1872, on the site of Francis Scott Key's death, this beautiful Norman-Gothic church was the fourth home to a congregation credited with establishing the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States. During World War I, the building provided housing for troops passing through Baltimore.

The church includes a 900-seat sanctuary, a music hall, a 40-seat chapel, meeting rooms, a fellowship hall, commercial kitchen, and additional lower level space.

A rare opportunity for your organization to preserve, venerate, and enjoy the beauty and grandeur of one of Baltimore's most iconic properties.
